

CIS STARR FORUM

The Republican Party

and American Foreign Policy

Mon, Nov 7, 2011, 5:30 PM

MIT Bldg E14-674 | 75 Amherst St, Cambridge

Speakers:

Michael Singh is managing director of The Washington Institute and a former senior director for Middle East affairs at the National Security Council. At the White House, he was responsible for strategies on a wide range of Middle East issues, i.e. a nuclear Iran, the Arab-Israeli peace process, and human rights.

Daniel Drezner is professor of international politics at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, a senior editor at The National Interest, and a contributing editor at Foreign Policy. He is an occasional commentator for NPR's Marketplace, and keeps a daily weblog for Foreign Policy magazine.

Moderator:

Stephen Van Evera is Ford International Professor in the MIT Political Science Department. His work is on the causes and prevention of war, US foreign policy, US security policy, US intervention in the Third World, and international relations of the Middle East.